Assembly Instructions

A backyard sandbox provides hours of enjoyment, and can be built in just a short amount of time. The tools are fairly simple to use, requiring little to no experience with construction. Although the construction is one that most DIYers can tackle, careful attention should be paid to safety measures and building materials. Once its built, you'll have a fun, safe play area for young children.

You'll Need:

- Wooden board x 4
- Triangle wooden corner x 4
- Self-tapping screws x 32

Warning!

1. Outdoor use only.
2. Adult assembly required.
3. Residential use only.
4. Not suitable for children under 3 years.

Step 1

Assemble first two boards at the corner, by four screws.

2/7

Step 2

Repeat step 1 for the three other corners.

Step 3

Affix the triangle corner with four screws, as shown below. Repeat for all corners.

Assembly complete!
